01. SUMMARY

Data Analyst with 12+ years of experience across finance and cross-functional business operations, now applying that grounding to modern data analytics. At Evermos, I don't stop at building reports — I dig into the data to trace business issues back to their root cause, whether that's a broken process, an inconsistent data model, or a reporting gap, and turn that diagnosis into fixes with measurable impact. I design and automate data pipelines with Airflow, dbt, SQL and Python, and integrate AI tools to move faster. Twelve years spent learning how a business actually operates — not only how its numbers look — is what lets me ask the right question before I touch the data.
